

The Greatest is Love

The first and great commandment

is "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind."

Your greatest need

is deep and genuine love for God -
His love shed abroad in your heart and returned to him again.

Take time each morning

to tell God you love Him, worship Him, praise Him, and adore Him as your God, your friend, your one great love.

Revel in Him and His love. Delight in Him. Find in Him frequently some of that infinite peace, joy and love which is your right as his child.

Don't grieve Him by rushing into his presence with your perpetual pleas, until you have first offered Him the sacrifices of your love and worship.

Any other point of departure for your spiritual pilgrimage
is base by comparison,
any other foundation for your spiritual life inadequate.

No other way can God be your God, supreme in your world,
ruler of your universe.

God is love.

And now abideth faith, hope, love.

But -
